

Physical English

Physics 400-001 (45717) & 500-001 (45717)
Spring 2018

In this one-credit seminar, we will discuss how to write physics papers that people can understand and how to give talks that teach people something. After some introductory lessons, we will study examples of good scientific writing and ridicule examples of bad scientific writing. We also will listen to some good talks and some bad ones.

Credit/no credit—no exams, no homework.

Mondays, 4:00 – 4:50

Room 1131